Weatherproof: The Aluminum Cabinets with industrial, baked on paint finish do not absorb moisture or rot due to exposure to rain or the elements.

Interchangeability: Evidence Collection Modules are easily changed from one vehicle to another.

Organization: Forensic Kits and shelves labeled to ensure organized storage of equipment.

Maximum Evidence Security: Modules are provided with three (3) Evidence Compartments equipped with Medeco high security, virtually pick proof locks with patented key control to prevent unauthorized duplication of keys. Each door is provided with a different key. Collected evidence can be locked in the compartment and the key dropped through the slot. The evidence is preserved until the property custodian opens using the master key. This method insures critical chain of custody is maintained.

When processing a crime scene, a quick response is crucial in the preservation of physical evidence and the documentation of transient details that play critical roles in the solving and prosecuting of crimes. It allows investigators to immediately secure access to a crime scene where fragile evidence such as latent prints, bloodspots and gunshot residue may be compromised.

SIRCHIE's First Response Units not only provide the means to act quickly and ensure crime scene integrity, but also heighten officer safety by making the necessary protective equipment, lighting and communications readily available.
