Crime Scene Security

Proper securing of a crime scene starts with the first responder: Law enforcement officers secure the scene and note the condition of the scene upon arrival. Using products such as barrier tape, photography barriers and scene guard tents helps to preserve the scene and lets investigators make observations before the scene and evidence are potentially compromised. In the following section, you'll find tools to quickly and efficiently secure a crime scene.

Evidence Collection Course

Law Enforcement Professionals operate in an increasingly complex environment where budgets are tight, crime scenes are complicated, and the public expects investigations to lead quickly to justice. Our popular Evidence Collection Accelerated Training Class gives you hands-on experience in limited class sizes covering the scientific methods of collection, identification, evaluation, and preservation of physical evidence. Our students love the teach-do method of instruction and take their knowledge back to the field as lifelong Sirchie graduates.

No. CST100

- The tape is three inches (7.5 cm) wide by 1,000 feet (300 m) long.
- Warning repeats every 31 inches.
